No. 45

LIVE STOCK SHIPMENTS.

King Bros., of Sweet Springs, marketed 1,192 pound steers at $8.35 in St. Louis Friday, sold to Nelson Morris & Co.

E. W. Hawkins, of Fairville, Mo., sold a load of black cattle averaging 1395 lbs at $7. This is the last bunch of seven loads he has sold on this market in the last ten days, the lot averaging $6.91 per hundred. A good average for so many cattle of one man's feeding.—Thursday's Chicago Drovers Journal.

Uncle Abe Vanmeter, of the famous Malta Bend country, in Saline county, Missouri, had a shipment of cattle here to-day, including three Shorthorn steers, averaging 1876 lbs, which sold at $7.—Monday's Chicago Drovers Journal.

R. M. Woodruff, of Blackwater, one of the ablest stockmen of Saline county, bought 132 good stock cattle in St. Louis last Wednesday.

W. D. Pettit, of Hughesville, was in St. Louis last Friday with a consignment of 1,278 steers that brought $8.40.

JUDGE GIBSON SPECIAL JUDGE.

Judge James Gibson, of Kansas City, was called to Marshall Monday to hear the demurrer in the case of Com. P. Storts assignee, against W. I. Garnett and other directors of the Citizens Stock Bank. The cause was taken under advisement, but no decision rendered. The case will probably come up for trial at the February term of Court.

PROF BRANDON HONORED

At a recent meeting of the Modern Language Association, at Ohio State University, Mr. Edgar E. Brandon was honored with an election to the presidency of the association. Mr. Brandon holds the chair of Modern Languages at that old and well known Ohio institution, Miami University. He hails from Saline, where his friends are pleased to learn of his newly acquired laurels.

MR. WOODBRIDGE'S PAPER

Mr. J. L. Woodbridge's paper upon "Annihilation of overdrafts," at the Bankers' Convention held in Marshall recently, evinced such deep study of the subject, and keen insight and broad understanding of the question, that through one of his hearers, a representative from St. Joseph, Mr. Woodbridge was invited to impart to this group the results of his thought upon the subject. St. Joseph is in group three and their annual meeting was held Wednesday, at which this representative of Marshall's banks was present and responded to his part upon the program. Mr. Woodbridge returned that night, and speaks very highly of the meeting there and of their hospitable treatment of guests.

SYNODICAL COMMITTEE MEETING.

Rev. W. R. Dobyns, Chairman of Home Missions Committee of the Synod of Missouri, recently issued a call to the members of that committee for a meeting here Thursday. In response to this, the committee met at the Rock church Thursday, and a discussion of their work followed. Those present were Drs. E. C. Gordon, Lexington; J. F. Cannon, St. Louis; Revs. Thos. Gallaher, Rensselaer, W. S. Foreman, St. Joseph, and Rev. W. R. Dobyns, formerly of the Marshall church, but now pastor of 1st Presbyterian church of St. Joseph.

CIRCUIT COURT CLIPPINGS.

Fayette Advertiser.

Mary E. King vs. Junior E. King et al, damages; continued by agreement.

James H. King, et al, vs. Will R. King et al, suit to set aside will; continued.

Mary E. King vs. Jennie E. King, excepting to report of commissioners, setting of decree; exceptions to report overruled, report confirmed.

PROTRACTED MEETING POSTPONED.

Rev. Chauncey E. Hickok, pastor of the Centralia Presbyterian church, came to Marshall Tuesday, expecting to commence a protracted meeting at the Mt. Olive church, five miles south of here, but on account of the severe weather and country roads in their present condition, the time of these services was postponed till after Xmas.

G. F. Fitzgerald, Chicago, and Florence I. Fuhrman, Marshall.

Geo. O. Hatton and Effie Barnds, Marshall.

Charley Walker and Livia Huff, Marshall.

Westley Sadewhite and Kate Butler, Marshall.

COLLEGE CONCERT.

Advanced Class of Prof. Place's Music School
Renders an Interesting Program Tuesday Evening.

The second number of the entertainment and lecture course, mapped out recently by the faculty of Missouri Valley College for the benefit of not only her own students but the people of this city, who are interested in our home institution and enjoy such literary and musical treats as this course affords them, was given Tuesday evening at the College Chapel. It was the musical number and the performers were all members of Prof. Place's advanced classes.

The encores of the evening testify most amply to the appreciation of the audience of the selections played and sung with much merit and talent. The disagreeable evening and distance from town, doubly disadvantageous upon this date by reason of snow covered walks, restricted the attendance, compelling many to forego the pleasure of being present.
